

Table of Contents

Preface

xv

To the Student	xv
To the Instructor	xxi
To the Administrator	xxv

Chapter 1

3

Adjusting to College: We're Not in High School Anymore!

1.1 High School Is Not College	3
1.2 College Involves Freedom and Responsibility	6
In College, Studying Happens Outside of Class	6
The Syllabus Is Your Best Friend	7
1.3 The Road to Success	9
What Is Student Success?	9
So—What Is Success in College?	9
Success Means Becoming Qualified	10
What Is Failure in College?	10
1.4 Attitudes and Resources for Success	11
1.5 Summary	12

Chapter 2

29

Connecting to Resources: People, Places, and Things

2.1 People	29
Advisors	30
Coaches	30
Counselors	31
Faculty (Office Hours)	31
Staff	31
Librarians	31
Other Students	32
Security	32
Academic Tutors	33

2.2	Places	33
	Learning Centers or Academic Centers	33
	Computer Labs	33
	Counseling Center	34
	The Library	35
	Organization	35
	Locating Materials and Information	35
	Research Help	36
	Atmosphere	36
	Special Collections	36
	Campus Athletic Fitness Center	36
	The Campus Bus System	37
2.3	Things (Technologies)	37
	Your College Portal	37
	College Webmail	37
	Anatomy of an Email to Your Professor	38
	Things You Should Know About Most College Webmail	39
	Course Management Systems	40
	Using Your College Database Software	40
2.4	Summary	42

Chapter 3 63

Learning and Grades: Why Am I Really in College?

3.1	Focus	63
3.2	Goals	65
3.3	Pace	67
3.4	Depth	68
3.5	Responsibility	71
3.6	Summary	74

Chapter 4 95

Learning Preferences: How Do I Learn Best?

4.1	How Do We Learn?	95
	Learning Involves Doing	95
	Learning Involves Thinking	96
4.2	Why Do We Learn?	97

4.3	I've Learned Something—Now What?	98
4.4	Individual Learning Preferences	98
4.5	Orientation to Learning	99
4.6	Learning Preferences and Strategies	101
4.7	Discovering Your Own Learning Preferences	105
4.8	Practice What You Have Learned	107
	Analyzing Your ILS Results	107
4.9	Summary	109

Chapter 5

131

Getting Organized: Plan Your Work and Then Work Your Plan

5.1	Time Management: A Myth	132
	Time Pirates	132
	How Much Time Do I Have, Anyway?	134
	How Much Time Do I Have for Studying?	134
	Plan Your Work, Then Work Your Plan!	135
5.2	The Study Plan	135
	Components of the Study Plan	136
	Creating Your Study Plan Tools	137
	Tool 1: The Monthly Calendar	137
	Tool 2: The Weekly Appointment Calendar	138
	Tool 3: The Study Session Ticket	140
5.3	The Alphabet Approach	143
	A = Anticipate and Plan	143
	B = Break Tasks Down	143
	C = Cross Things Off	143
	D = Don't Procrastinate	144
5.4	Summary	145

Chapter 6

177

Listening and Taking Notes: Do You Hear What I Hear?

6.1	Listening for Success	177
	Preparing to Listen	177
	Complete Required Reading and Other Assignments in Advance	177
	Prepare Questions in Advance	178
	Prepare Your Physical Environment in Advance	179

Active Listening During Class	180
Avoid Defining the Topic as Dull	180
Avoid Distractions	180
Don't Let Points of Disagreement Stop You from Listening	180
Engage the Professor and Others in the Class	180
6.2 Taking Notes for Success	181
The Cornell Method of Note Taking	182
Step 1: Record (During Class)	184
Step 2: Reduce (Immediately After Class)	185
Step 3: Recite (During a Routine Study Session Prior to the Next Class)	186
Step 4: Reflect (During a Routine Study Session)	186
Step 5: Review (During Every Routine Study Session)	187
6.3 Summary	187

Chapter 7 207

Reading Textbooks: What They Never Taught You in Kindergarten!

7.1 What Is Reading?	209
7.2 Why Textbooks?	209
7.3 How to Read a Textbook	211
Expect to Devote Time to Reading	211
Don't Try to Multitask	211
Read in an Environment That Supports Studying	212
Employ Proven Strategies for Reading	212
SOAR	212
SQ3R	213
7.4 Road Signs for Reading	215
7.5 Responding to New Vocabulary	216
Identifying New Vocabulary	216
Use Phonics to Sound Out the Word	216
Use Context Clues to Derive Meaning	216
Use Resources Such as a Glossary or a Dictionary	217
Learning New Words and Definitions	217
Moving Beyond Definitions to Associations	217
7.6 Summary	219

Chapter 8

239

Writing College Papers: I Have a Paper Due!

8.1	Guidelines for College Writing	239
	Follow the Professor's Instructions	240
	Use the Proper Format	240
	Do Not Plagiarize, and Keep a Copy of Your Sources	241
	Write with Purpose	242
	Tips for General Writing	242
	Tips for Writing a Research Paper	242
	Proofread, Do Your Best Work, and Grade Yourself First	243
8.2	Resources for College Writing	244
	Using Sources from the Internet	244
	Using Scholarly Publications	244
8.3	Planning the College-Level Paper	246
	Identify the Tasks Involved and Estimate the Time Required for Each	247
	Add the Tasks to a Calendar	249
8.4	Summary	250

Chapter 9

265

Psychological Balance: Walking the Tightrope

9.1	Balance Defined	265
9.2	Elements of Balance	266
	Academic	266
	Financial	266
	Physical	267
	Psychological	267
9.3	Maintaining Psychological Balance	270
	Reducing Stress Levels	272
	Monitoring Your Behaviors, Moods, and Feelings	274
	Anxiety	274
	Attention-Deficit/Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD)	274
	Depression	275
	Eating Disorders	277
9.4	Summary	280

Chapter 10

297

Physical Balance: An Apple a Day

10.1 Elements of Physical Balance	297
Maintaining a Healthy Diet	298
Maintaining Proper Exercise and Sleep Regimens	300
Maintaining Proper Exercise for Health	300
Good Sleep Habits	301
Sex and Romance in College	302
Sexual Identity	304
Drug, Alcohol, and Nicotine Use in College	304
Drug Use in College	305
Alcohol Use in College	305
Nicotine Use in College	307
10.2 Summary	307

Chapter 11

331

Managing Your Money: Cashing in on the College Experience

11.1 The Value of a College Education	332
11.2 Money for College	334
Scholarships	334
Financial Aid	335
Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA)	335
Loans	336
11.3 Money for Every Day: Buying Goods and Services	337
Distinguish Wants from Needs	337
Inexpensive Ways to Supply Your Needs	339
Textbooks	339
Food and Other Day-to-Day Goods and Services	339
Health and Recreation	339
Entertainment	340
11.4 Managing Money	340
Banks	341
Credit Unions	342
Savings	342
Checking	342
Debit Cards and ATMs	343
Your Budget: Credit Versus Debit (Income Versus Expenses)	343

11.5 Managing Credit and Debt	346
What Is Credit?	346
What Is Interest?	346
What Is Debt?	346
Debt-to-Income Ratio	347
Credit Card Debt	347
Reports You Can Obtain About Your Credit	348
Credit Report and Credit Score	348
11.6 Summary	350

Chapter 12 371

Planning Your Future: What Courses Should I Take?

12.1 Graduation Requirements	372
The Core Curriculum	372
The College Catalog	373
Courses and Credit	373
Courses to Avoid	374
Online Courses	375
Planning Your Semester Course Load	376
How to Calculate Your GPA	378
Graduation Application	379
12.2 Designing Your Long-Term Graduation Plan	380
Step 1: Select an Academic Major	380
Step 2: Identify Prerequisites	381
Step 3: Determine When Specific Courses Are Available	382
Step 4: Record When You Plan to Take Each Required Course	382
12.3 Summary	384

Appendix 403

Answer Key for Reading Comprehension Questions	403
--	-----

References 407

Index 417

Figures & Tables

Table 1.1	High School Versus College	4
Figure 1.1	Venues for Studying and Learning at Various Academic Levels	7
Table 1.2	Examples of Attitudes and Resources for Success	11
Table 2.1	Successful Students Connect to Campus Resources	30
Table 2.2	Examples of Student Organizations	32
Table 2.3	Services Offered by Most Counseling Centers (CCs)	34
Table 2.4	Topics Addressed by Many CC Websites	35
Figure 3.1	Two Approaches: Comparison of a Focus on Grades with a Focus on Learning	64
Table 3.1	Contrasting Questions Associated with Academic Focus	65
Table 3.2	Example of Study Guide Questions Based on a Lesson Objective	66
Table 3.3	Comparison of Deep Learning and Surface Learning	69
Figure 4.1	Each Person Has Their Own Individual Orientation to Learning	100
Table 4.1	Learning Preference Descriptions and Tips for Studying	102
Figure 4.2	Index of Learning Styles Results (NC State University)	107
Table 5.1	Study Tools	136
Figure 5.1	Record Assignments and Deadlines on the Monthly Calendar	138
Figure 5.2	Weekly Appointment Calendar	139
Figure 5.3	Example of a Completed Study Session Ticket	141
Figure 5.4	Example of a Completed Worksheet	142
Figure 5.5	Example of a Ticket Before and After a Study Session	174
Figure 6.1	The Cycle of Learning	178
Figure 6.2	Diagram of the Cornell Method of Note Taking	182
Figure 6.3	Example of a Note Page During Class	183
Figure 6.4	Example of a Note Page After Class	186
Table 7.1	Failing and Succeeding Dispositions Toward Reading a Textbook	210
Table 7.2	Description of the SOAR Method	213
Table 7.3	Description of the SQ3R Method	213
Figure 7.1	Example of a Flashcard	217
Figure 7.2	Example of a Concept Map	218
Table 8.1	Research Journal Article Headings	245
Table 8.2	Task List Planning Example	247
Figure 8.1	Example Monthly Calendar with Tasks Planned	250
Figure 9.1	Four Elements of a Balanced College Student	268
Table 9.1	Symptoms of Eating Disorders	278

Figure 10.1	Building Blocks for a Healthy Diet	299
Figure 10.2	Achieving Maximal Effect: Ways to Incorporate Exercise into Your Campus Life!	301
Table 11.1	Goals and Objectives	329
Table 11.2	Example Goals and Objectives	330
Figure 11.1	2014 Median Weekly Earnings by Education Level	333
Figure 11.2	Banked Versus Unbanked	341
Figure 11.3	The Cycle of Budgeting	344
Figure 11.4	Tips on Preventing Identity Theft	345
Table 12.1	Credit Hour Scenario for the First Two Years (Without Summer Courses)	377
Table 12.2	Credit Hour Scenario for the First Two Years (with Summer Courses)	377
Figure 12.1	Partial Example of a Graduation Plan Worksheet	382

Assignments

Assignment 1.1	Maintain a Record of Your Progress	23
Assignment 2.1	Identifying Campus Resources	55
Assignment 3.1	Study Group (2–4 people for four meetings)	91
Assignment 4.1	Learning Preference Assessment	125
Assignment 5.1	Mark Your Monthly Calendar	157
Assignment 5.2	Develop Study Plans for Courses	163
Assignment 5.3	Weekly Appointment Page	167
Assignment 5.4	Study Session Tickets	171
Assignment 6.1	Practice Taking Notes	203
Assignment 7.1	Practice Identifying New Vocabulary	235
Assignment 8.1	Practice Finding Resources	261
Assignment 9.1	Maintaining Balance in Life During College	293
Assignment 10.1	Maintaining Physical Balance During College	325
Assignment 11.1	Monthly Budgeting	367
Assignment 12.1	Design Your Long-Term Graduation Plan	399
Assignment 12.2	Plan Semester Registration	401