

Chapter Roadmaps

Chapter 1	Adjusting to College	1
Chapter 2	Connecting to Resources	17
Chapter 3	Learning and Grades	39
Chapter 4	Learning Preferences	61
Chapter 5	Getting Organized	85
Chapter 6	Listening and Taking Notes	125
Chapter 7	Reading Textbooks	145
Chapter 8	Writing College Papers	165
Chapter 9	Psychological Balance	183
Chapter 10	Physical Balance	205
Chapter 11	Managing Your Money	223
Chapter 12	Planning Your Future	251

Table of Contents

Preface

xv

To the Student	xv
To the Instructor	xxv
To the Administrator	xxix

Chapter 1

3

Adjusting to College: Where Do I Begin?

1.1 What Can I Expect in College?	3
1.2 College Is for Adults	5
In College, Studying Happens Outside of Class	5
The Syllabus Is Your Best Friend	6
1.3 The Road to Success	7
What Is Student Success?	7
So—What Is Success in College?	8
Success Means Becoming Qualified	8
What Is Failure in College?	8
1.4 Attitudes and Resources for Success	9
1.5 Summary	10

Chapter 2

19

Connecting to Resources: People, Places, and Things

2.1 People	19
Advisors	20
Coaches	20
Psychological Counselors	21
Career Counselors	21
Faculty (Office Hours)	21
Staff	21
Librarians	21
Other Students	22
Security	22
Academic Tutors	22

2.2	Places	23
	Financial Aid Office	23
	Learning Centers or Academic Centers	23
	Computer Labs	23
	Psychological Counseling Center	24
	The Library	25
	Organization	25
	Locating Materials and Information	25
	Research Help	26
	Atmosphere	26
	Special Collections	26
	Campus Athletic Fitness Center	26
	The Campus Bus System	27
2.3	Things (Technologies)	27
	Your College Portal	27
	College Webmail	27
	Anatomy of an Email to Your Professor	28
	Things You Should Know About Most College Webmail	29
	Course Management Systems	30
	Using Your College Database Software	30
2.4	Summary	32

Chapter 3 43

Learning and Grades: Why Am I Really in College?

3.1	Focus	43
3.2	Goals	45
3.3	Pace	47
3.4	Depth	48
3.5	Responsibility	51
3.6	Summary	54

Chapter 4 63

Learning Preferences: How Do I Learn Best?

4.1	How Do We Learn?	63
	Learning Involves Doing	63
	Learning Involves Thinking	64

4.2	Why Do We Learn?	65
4.3	I've Learned Something—Now What?	66
4.4	Individual Learning Preferences	67
4.5	Orientation to Learning	67
4.6	Learning Preferences and Strategies	69
4.7	Discovering Your Own Learning Preferences	73
4.8	Practice What You Have Learned	75
	Analyzing Your ILS Results	75
4.9	Summary	77

Chapter 5 87

Getting Organized: Plan Your Work and Then Work Your Plan

5.1	Time Management: A Myth	88
	Time Pirates	88
	How Much Time Do I Have, Anyway?	90
	How Much Time Do I Have for Studying?	91
	Plan Your Work, Then Work Your Plan!	91
5.2	The Study Plan	91
	Components of the Study Plan	92
	Creating Your Study Plan Tools	93
	Tool 1: The Monthly Calendar	93
	Tool 2: The Weekly Appointment Calendar	95
	Tool 3: The Study Session Ticket	97
5.3	The Alphabet Approach	100
	A = Anticipate and Plan	100
	B = Break Tasks Down	100
	C = Cross Things Off	100
	D = Don't Procrastinate	101
5.4	Summary	103

Chapter 6 127

Listening and Taking Notes: Do You Hear What I Hear?

6.1	Before Class	127
	Listening for Success	127
	Complete Required Reading and Other Assignments in Advance	128
	Prepare Questions in Advance	128
	Prepare Your Physical Environment in Advance	129

6.2	During Class	130
	Avoid Defining the Topic as Dull	130
	Avoid Distractions	130
	Don't Let Points of Disagreement Stop You from Listening	131
	Engage the Professor and Others in the Class	131
6.3	The Cornell Method of Note Taking	132
	Record (During Class)	135
6.4	Other Note-Taking Methods	136
6.5	After Class	137
	Reduce (Immediately After Class)	137
	Recite (During a Routine Study Session Prior to the Next Class)	138
	Reflect (During a Routine Study Session)	139
	Review (During Every Routine Study Session)	139
6.6	Summary	140

Chapter 7 147

Reading Textbooks: What They Never Taught You in Kindergarten!

7.1	What Is Reading?	149
7.2	Why Textbooks?	149
7.3	How to Read a Textbook	151
	Expect to Devote Time to Reading	151
	Don't Try to Multitask	151
	Read in an Environment That Supports Studying	152
	Employ Proven Strategies for Reading	152
	SOAR	152
	SQ3R	153
7.4	Road Signs for Reading	155
7.5	Responding to New Vocabulary	156
	Identifying New Vocabulary	156
	Sound Out the Word	156
	Use Context Clues to Derive Meaning	156
	Use Resources Such as a Glossary or a Dictionary	157
	Learning New Words	157
	Moving Beyond Definitions to Associations	157
7.6	Summary	159

Chapter 8

167

Writing College Papers: I Have a Paper Due!

8.1	Guidelines for College Writing	167
	Follow the Professor's Instructions	168
	Use the Proper Format	168
	Do Not Plagiarize (and Keep a Copy of Your Sources)	169
	Write with Purpose	169
	Tips for General Writing	170
	Tips for Writing a Research Paper	170
	Proofread, Do Your Best Work, and Grade Yourself First	171
8.2	Resources for College Writing	172
	Using Sources from the Internet	172
	Using Scholarly Publications	172
8.3	Planning the College-Level Paper	174
	Identify the Tasks Involved and Estimate the Time Required for Each	175
	Add the Tasks to a Calendar	177
8.4	Summary	178

Chapter 9

185

Psychological Balance: Walking the Tightrope

9.1	Balance Defined	185
9.2	Elements of Balance	186
	Academics	186
	Finances	186
	Family Life	187
	Work	187
	Physical Health	188
	Psychological Health	189
9.3	Reducing Stress Levels Can Help You Maintain Balance	190
9.4	Monitoring Your Behaviors, Moods, and Feelings	193
	Anxiety	193
	Attention-Deficit/Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD)	193
	Depression	194
	Eating Disorders	196
9.5	Summary	199

Chapter 10

207

Physical Balance: An Apple a Day

10.1 Elements of Physical Balance	207
Maintaining a Healthy Diet	208
Maintaining Proper Exercise for Health	211
Good Sleep Habits	212
Sex and Romance	213
Drug, Alcohol, and Nicotine Use in College	215
Drug Use in College	215
Alcohol Use in College	215
Nicotine Use in College	217
10.2 Summary	218

Chapter 11

227

Managing Your Money: Cashing in on the College Experience

11.1 The Value of a College Education	228
11.2 Money for College	231
Scholarships	231
Grants	231
Financial Aid	232
Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA)	232
Loans	232
11.3 Money for Every Day: Buying Goods and Services	233
Distinguish Wants from Needs	233
Inexpensive Ways to Supply Your Needs	236
Textbooks	236
Food and Other Day-to-Day Goods and Services	236
Wants	237
11.4 Managing Money	237
Banks	237
Credit Unions	239
Savings	239
Checking	239
Debit Cards and ATMs	240
Your Budget: Credit versus Debit (Income versus Expenses)	240

11.5	Managing Credit and Debt	243
	What Is Credit?	243
	What Is Interest?	243
	What Is Debt?	243
	Debt-to-Income Ratio	244
	Credit Card Debt	244
	Reports You Can Obtain About Your Credit	245
	Credit Report and Credit Score	245
11.6	Summary	246

Chapter 12 253

Planning Your Future: What Courses Should I Take?

12.1	Graduation Requirements	254
	The Core Curriculum	254
	The College Catalog	254
	Courses and Credit	255
	Courses to Avoid	255
	Online Courses	256
	Planning Your Semester Course Load	257
	How to Calculate Your GPA	259
	Graduation Application	260
12.2	Designing Your Long-Term Graduation Plan	261
	Step 1: Select an Academic Major	261
	Step 2: Identify Prerequisites	262
	Step 3: Determine When Specific Courses Are Available	263
	Step 4: Record When You Plan to Take Each Required Course	263
12.3	Summary	265

Appendix 273

References 277

Index 287

Figures & Tables

Figure 1.1	Venues for Studying and Learning at Various Academic Levels	6
Table 1.1	Examples of Attitudes and Resources for Success	9
Table 2.1	Successful Students Connect to Campus Resources	20
Table 2.2	Examples of Student Organizations	22
Table 2.3	Services Offered by Most Counseling Centers (CCs)	24
Table 2.4	Topics Addressed by Many CC Websites	25
Figure 3.1	Two Approaches: Comparison of a Focus on Grades with a Focus on Learning	44
Table 3.1	Contrasting Questions Associated with Academic Focus	45
Table 3.2	Example of Study Guide Questions Based on a Lesson Objective	48
Table 3.3	Comparison of Deep Learning and Surface Learning	49
Table 4.1	Learning Preference Descriptions and Tips for Studying	70
Figure 4.1	Index of Learning Styles Results (NC State University)	75
Table 5.1	Study Tools	93
Figure 5.1	Record Assignments and Deadlines on the Monthly Calendar	94
Figure 5.2	Weekly Appointment Calendar	96
Figure 5.3	Example of a Completed Study Session Ticket	98
Figure 5.4	Example of a Completed Worksheet	99
Figure 5.5	Example of a Ticket Before and After a Study Session	102
Figure 6.1	The Cycle of Learning	128
Figure 6.2	Diagram of the Cornell Method of Note Taking	133
Figure 6.3	Example of a Note Page During Class	134
Figure 6.4	Example of a Note Page After Class	138
Table 7.1	Failing and Succeeding Dispositions Toward Reading a Textbook	150
Table 7.2	Description of the SOAR Method	153
Table 7.3	Description of the SQ3R Method	153
Figure 7.1	Example of a Flashcard	157
Figure 7.2	Example of a Concept Map	158
Table 8.1	Research Journal Article Headings	173
Table 8.2	Task List Planning Example	175
Table 8.3	Example Monthly Calendar with Tasks Planned	178
Table 9.1	Symptoms of Eating Disorders	197
Figure 10.1	Building Blocks for a Healthy Diet	209
Figure 10.2	Achieving Maximal Effect: Ways to Incorporate Exercise into Your Campus Life!	212

Table 11.1	Goals and Objectives	225
Table 11.2	Example Goals and Objectives	226
Figure 11.1	Unemployment Rates and Earnings by Educational Attainment, 2016	229
Figure 11.2	Banked versus Unbanked	238
Figure 11.3	The Cycle of Budgeting	241
Figure 11.4	Tips on Preventing Identity Theft	242
Table 12.1	Credit Hour Scenario for the First Two Years (Without Summer Courses)	258
Table 12.2	Credit Hour Scenario for the First Two Years (with Summer Courses)	258
Figure 12.1	Partial Example of a Graduation Plan Worksheet	263

Assignments

Assignment 1.1	Maintain a Record of Your Progress	13
Assignment 2.1	Identifying Campus Resources	35
Assignment 3.1	My Motivation, Focus, and Approach to Learning	57
Assignment 4.1	Learning Preference Assessment	81
Assignment 5.1	Mark Your Monthly Calendar	107
Assignment 5.2	Develop Study Plans for Courses	113
Assignment 5.3	Weekly Appointment Page	117
Assignment 5.4	Study Session Tickets	121
Assignment 6.1	Practice Taking Notes	143
Assignment 7.1	Practice Identifying New Vocabulary	163
Assignment 8.1	Practice Finding Resources	181
Assignment 9.1	Maintaining Balance	203
Assignment 10.1	Maintaining Physical Balance	221
Assignment 11.1	Monthly Budgeting	249
Assignment 12.1	Design Your Long-Term Graduation Plan	269
Assignment 12.2	Plan Semester Registration	271